Justice Going After Big Fish

79 of Biggest U.S. Firms Face Department Anti-Trust Court Action.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 5 — The department of justice says it is going after the "big fish" among monopolies with anti-trust suits or investigations involving 79 of the 100 biggest companies in America.

An inquiry is under way, too, into combinations of investment bankers which Attorney General Clark says are "more or less able to control the money market."

Wendell Berge, then chief of the anti-trust division, told a house appropriations subcommittee of which Rep. Stefan (R-Neb) is chairman:

"The country is now experiencing the greatest concentration of economic power in its history."

He said the 63 largest manufacturing concerns have enough capital to buy out the 71,700 smaller ones representing 94 per cent of the total.

Berge testified during hearings on a bill supplying money to run the justice department. The bill was approved today and sent to the house for action.

Berge, who has since left the government to set up a private law practice, said that "of the 100 largest corporations in the United States 44 are now involved as defendants in anti-trust cases and 35 are right now involved in active investigation."

Stefan asked Berge:

"Is it true as reported that the department of justice contemplates an investigation of a possible press monopoly?"

Berge said a newsprint inquiry is under way but that it does not involve news gathering.

MANSFIELD-CANTON TELEPHONE LINE CUT

By The Associated Press

MASSILLON, O., May 5—Long distance service was impaired and some 200 local phones were silenced here today when two A. T. and T cables were slashed, S. A. Brickley, local Ohio Bell Telephone Co. manager, reported.

Brickley said long distance service at points between Cuyahoga Falls and Beach City and between Canton and Mansfield had been halted.

The Massillon barracks of the Ohio state highway patrol was among the local phones thrown out of order.

Repairs were expected to be completed late this afternoon Brickley said. It was the first instance of cable slashing in this area.

Fist-Fights Highlight Ohio Phone Walkout

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 5—Fist-fighting broke out again in front of the strike-bound Ohio Bell Telephone Co. building here today and police arrested four men on fighting charges.

The outbreak occurred when police took one man from the picket line of 70 striking employes and admonished him to watch his language.

Those arrested registered as J. I. Watkins, 29, who said he was an employe but not a striker, Howard Givines, 23, J. T. Adams, 31, and Robert Kelly, 18.

PACKERS ASK 30-HOUR WEEK

Shorter Work and Same Pay Called Reasonable by Union Leader.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 5 — The president of the CIO-United Packinghouse Workers of America called today for eventual establishment of the 30-hour week in the packing industry on a 40-hour pay rate.

In an address prepared for delivery before some 400 delegates representing 200,000 packinghouse workers in the United States and Canada, the union president, Ralph Helstein, declared:

"We are increasingly mindful of the accident and health hazards in packing, which makes the 30 hours a reasonable work week for men and women working in the industry."

This was also necessary, he said, because the trend toward a lower volume of employment results to a great extent from increased man-hour output.

Part of Program

Helstein's views on the 30-hour work week, expressed on the opening day of a four-day convention, were part of a 13-point program which he said was designed to protect packinghouse workers and the nation as a whole.

Outlining his plan, he explained: "We cannot await the arrival of a depression and then beat our breast in agony and despair over the program to be adopted.

"We have the obligation of being sufficiently far-sighted so as to anticipate coming events and project programs in advance that will be in the interests of our people and the nation as a whole."

Helstein's program also included:

Establishment of "firm support price guarantees" on farm and livestock to run a minimum of five years in place of the existing two years—extended to cattle as well as hogs.

Extension of Relief

Extension of relief foods going to nations destroyed by war. "In this," Helstein said, "we have both a moral obligation and one that arises from our own self interest."

A greatly expanded housing program.

Rehabilitation of the nation's railroads.

Increased highway construction.

Enactment of a proper tax program based on ability to pay rather than "shifting the burden of taxation to the poor."

A permanent fair employment practices law and the outlawing of all forms of racial discrimination.

BAREFOOT PRISONERS BREAK JACKSON JAIL

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, O., May 5—Three prisoners—two of them barefoot—escaped last night from the Jackson county jail by a combination of door-forcing and ledge-walking, Sheriff Stanley Lewis reported today.

All three still were at large today.

Sheriff Lewis identified the escapees as Roscoe Deer, 27, Flatwoods, Greenup county, Ky; Carl Seagraves, 20, Powellton, Fayette county, W. Va., and Perry Bennett, 20, Jackson.

Seagraves and Bennett, said the sheriff, were without shoes because a previous attempt to escape had been detected. The two, with Fred Elkins, 23, Jackson, were placed in the jail's "bullpen" enclosure.

The trio escaped, Sheriff Lewis

PREDICT LIGHT PRIMARY VOTE

Scarcity of Contests Tomorrow Holds Interest Down To Low Ebb.

Estimates that the turnout of voters for the municipal primary tomorrow would not exceed 3,500 were made today by election board officials as final details of the election were completed.

Thirty voting places in the city will open at 6:30 a. m. The polls will close at 6:30 p. m. The anticipated light vote and the fact there are few contests led election board officials to predict that the vote count would be completed by 10 p. m.

With the exception of the southeast portion of Richland township there will be no primary in the county. The section of the township that lies in the Cardington, Morrow county, school district, will vote on a $306,000 bond issue for improvement of the Cardington school. Approximately 150 voters are in the district. The election will be held in the township house.

Few Advance Votes

Mrs. Nora Fetter, deputy clerk of the board of elections, reported today that only 11 absentee ballots had been cast for the city primary. She said this was the lowest number cast here in many years.

No contests appear on the Democratic ballot. Republicans have contests for city solicitor, council-at-large, and First, Third and Sixth ward council seats.

List of candidates follows:

Mayor: Harry L. Dowler, Republican; Karl Dune, Democrat.

President of council: William G. Slack, Republican; Dr. George W. Pfleiderer, Democrat.

Treasurer: Harry D. Cahill, Republican; John W. Sekinger, Democrat.

Auditor: Elmer Shaw, Republican. No Democratic entry.

Solicitor: Hugh E. Kirkwood Jr., Paul G. Simpson and John W. Watters, Republicans; Frank D. Gegenheimer, Democrat.

Councilman-at-large: Newton D. Cunningham, Floyd J. Fate, Charles R. Pennisten, C. J. Roberts, Harold F. Robinson, Malcolm Severns and Charles H. Tate, Republicans; Robert G. Burton, Otis R. McCloskey and J. R. Youngblood, Democrats.

Ward councilmen: first ward, D. A. Tonguette and Arthur H. Dowler, Republicans. Harold Smith, Democrat.

Second ward: Carl Rorick, Republican; James C. Jenkins, Democrat.

Third ward: Richard F. Langdon and Clarence Saiter, Republicans; Herman L. Rinehart, Democrat.

Fourth ward: Don R. Biggert, Republican; George L. Conroy, Democrat.

Fifth ward: Herman M. Miller, Republican; Walter E. Haberman, Democrat.

Sixth ward: Clarence H. Sanden and Curtis W. Long, Republicans; Ralph W. Solinger, Democrat.

FOUR INJURED IN CRASH NEAR GALION

Kenton and Crestline Autos in Accident.

Special to The Star

GALION, May 5—Four persons were injured when autos driven by Rev. Fred Gaskins of Kenton and Earl Hoffman of Crestline collided on Route 30 a short distance east of Galion at about 8 a. m. today. Mrs. Pansy Allen of Kenton, a passenger in the car driven by Rev. Gaskins, suffered broken ribs and a possible fracture of the left leg. She is a patient at Galion hospital. Hoffman, Rev. Bert DeWitt of Kenton and his daughter Martha of Kenton, passengers in the Gaskins auto, were released after being treated for minor injuries and shock.

Hoffman was arrested by state highway patrolmen, who charged him with drunken driving. He was to appear in mayor's court at Galion this afternoon. Patrolmen reported the accident occurred when Hoffman, headed toward Galion, approached a curve on the wrong side of the highway, sideswiping the vehicle driven by Reverend Gaskins.

GIVES SELF UP

George Davis, 74, is tired of dodging the law, he told city police Saturday afternoon, giving himself up as a parole violator. He said he is a refugee from Auburn prison at Auburn, New York, and asked to be extradited. The police are checking with Auburn prison officials before taking action. His home address has not been reported.

20 Pennsylvania Babies Perish In Intestinal Disease Outbreak

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, May 5—Twenty infants have died since March 1 in an outbreak of gastro-enteritis at Allentown, Pa., the city health officer there said today, as Temple university hospital reported the danger of additional deaths among 13 child sufferers from the disease is "considerably lightened."

The death toll of 20 was reported by Dr. Frederick R. Bausch, Allentown health officer, who said a check of his records since March 1 showed 14 deaths from the disease at Sacred Heart hospital, two at Allentown General hospital and four in Philadelphia. All four deaths in Philadelphia were babies brought here after closing of the Sacred Heart hospital maternity ward.

All Few Days Old

The victims, Dr. Bausch said, were less than one year old.

Five deaths occurred over the weekend, four here and one in Allentown.

A responsible spokesman for Sacred Heart hospital said 10 deaths occurred there between March 15 and last Friday when the decision was made to close the maternity ward.

Following that decision, 17 infants were brought to Temple hospital and placed in a special isolation ward. Extraordinary precautions are being taken to prevent further spread of the disease here, the Temple spokesman emphasized.

The remaining 13 infant patients here are "considerably improved," Temple hospital reported.

Ample supplies of streptomycin are available, the spokesman continued and doctors are hopeful that it will curb the disease, a form of diarrhea often fatal to infants. None of the victims is more than a few weeks old.

"Did All in Power"

At Allentown, 60 miles north of here, the Sacred Heart official disclosed that last March 15 the hospital admitted seven children suffering from the disease "from other hospitals in the Lehigh valley community.

"We did all in our power, but these seven and three of our own patients who subsequently contracted the diseases died here," the official continued. "It was then we determined to close the maternity ward and asked Temple to accept those still ill."

Seventeen infants were brought to Philadelphia, 15 of them in a single ambulance load Friday night, and placed in an isolation ward.

Two died here Saturday and two more deaths occurred yesterday. In addition, another baby, readmitted to Sacred Heart hospital on orders of Dr. Frederick G. Bausch, Allentown city physician, died there yesterday.

ACTS, NOT TALK ASKED OF RUSS

Senators Wish Stalin Would Tell Gromyko, Not Stassen, About Cooperation.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 5—Several senators said today that Russia can expect American teamwork in solving the problems of peace only if Soviet officials translate into deeds Premier Stalin's words that the U.S.S.R. "wants to cooperate."

Commenting on Stalin's assertion to Harold E. Stassen, Senator Hatch (D-NM.) said that if the Soviet leader backs his views "with the full weight and strength of his great country to the same extent that our county is willing to cooperate, prosperity and happiness can be assured for the whole world."

"I do not want to be cynical," Hatch told a reporter, "but I do want actual cooperation on many fronts—including the United Nations—to be demonstrated by deeds and actions before I can place full credence in mere words."

Makes Interview Public

Stalin's views, expressed in Stassen's April 9 interview at the Kremlin with the Russian premier, were made public over the weekend by the former Minnesota governor.

This transcript quoted Stalin as saying that while there are "big differences of views among us" over the future control of atomic energy "international control and inspection will be established in my view and it will be of great importance."

"As for the use of atomic energy for war purposes," Stalin continued, "this in all probability will be prohibited. It will be a problem in the long run that will be met by the consciences of the people and it will be prohibited."

Senator McMahon (D-Conn), a member of the senate-house atomic energy committee, told a reporter this "sounds fine."

"But I wish he had told that to Gromyko, instead of to Stassen," the Connecticut senator observed.

Opposes Atomic Control

Andrei Gromyko, Russian representative on the United Nations security council, has opposed American proposals for control of atomic developments through international inspection and regulation.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass), a member of the foreign relations committee, said he hopes Stalin's future acts "will give effect" to his words.

But Senator McCarran (D-Nev) declared he "never knew the Russians to mean what they say, yet." For that reason, he said he has little hope that there will be any change in Soviet policy which Secretary of State Marshall has blamed for deadlocking the Moscow conference of foreign ministers.

However, Senator Connally (D-Tex) top Democrat on the foreign relations committee, said that if the Russian premier "has the will to cooperate, we can get along."

"We recognize Russia's international rights and have no intention of violating them," the Texas senator said. "If she will take the same attitude toward our rights, there will be no lack of cooperation."

TREATMENT GIVEN 3 WOUND VICTIMS

Woman, Girl and Man Taken to City Hospital.

Mrs. Mary Crump and her 10-year-old daughter Elsie, Michigan avenue residents, were treated at City hospital early Sunday morning for gun shot wounds. The girl still was in the hospital today but the mother was released Sunday.

Police said the two were wounded when a .38 calibre pistol fell from the hand of Lester Reed, a roomer, and discharged while he was gathering up his clothes preparatory to moving from the Crump home. One bullet hit Mrs. Crump in the first and second fingers of the right hand and the girl suffered a leg wound at the same time. Reed took the woman and girl to the hospital.

J. B. Atkins, 32, of the Erie railroad camp west of the city was treated at City hospital for a five-inch wound on his head following a fight at the camp, police reported today. He was released Sunday.

Police said Atkins was found along 30-S and was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist. He told police other men at the camp "beat me up." He as unable to name his assailants.

RUNS AMUCK IN WILD FIT OF MAD JEALOUSY

J. O. Hurley, C. & O. Worker Here, Slays Sister-in-Law, Wife, Son and Brother.

A former Marion man, hunted by a posse of 40 sheriff's deputies and state police since the killing yesterday of four relatives near Fort Gay, W. Va., approximately 30 miles south of Huntington, was slain today, according to The Associated Press.

The man was identified as James Oliver Hurley, 40, killed by a special investigator from prosecuting attorney's office of Wayne, W. Va.

An Associated Press dispatch from Fort Gay quoted Sheriff Robert L. Drown of Fort Gay as reporting Hurley's victims included his 3-year-old son, Jay, shot four times; his estranged wife, Mrs. Susie Billups Hurley, 34, shot three times; his brother, William, 45, shot six times, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Nora Belle Skeens, 32, shot twice.

Two Others Wounded

Two other children, including Hurley's nine-month-old daughter and an 18-month-old nephew, were wounded, the sheriff added.

He named the children as Aileen Hurley and Lawrence Skeens, patients at Louisa, Ky., general hospital where a nurse said Lawrence's condition was critical. Aileen was reported to be suffering from a slight flesh wound.

Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney Floyd Harrison said that his own investigating agent, S. B. Noe, and a posse member, Millard Bartram, unwittingly trapped Hurley, a day laborer, in the rude log structure and "shot it out with him."

Hurley got in the first shot, said Harrison, and the bullet drilled a hole in Noe's hat, but he was uninjured.

Hurley had been sought by a posse in a wooded and brush district two miles from Fort Gay, W. Va., since his wife, a son, a sister-in-law and a brother were killed late yesterday.

Two other children, Leonard, 12, and Allen, 9, ran for their lives and escaped in a hail of shots, before their father left to continue on his shooting rampage.

Story of Shooting

Harrison told this story of the killing of Hurley, who had returned to West Virginia only last Thursday after being employed in Marion.

Hurley and his wife had been estranged, the prosecutor said, and when he returned to Wayne county, he left two suitcases at the home of a brother-in-law, Floyd Wellman, not far from where his wife was living.

After the killings yesterday, he disappeared, but word got around that he was "looking for two or three others he was going to kill," including the Wellmans.

Wellman and his wife left their log cabin home and stayed with friends last night, but this morning Wellman said he had to return to feed and milk his cows.

Bartram, who had been a member of the posse joined him, and on the way to the cabin they met Noe, who also went along.

The three carefully searched the downstairs, said Harrison, and then turned to the second floor, with Noe in the lead.

"Just as Noe's hat came level with the second floor, Hurley fired, the bullet boring into Noe's hat.

Noe grabbed his own gun and fired back, meanwhile backing down the stairs.

"Hurley had been hit in the stomach," said the prosecutor, "but with one hand on his stomach and nearly doubled over, he came down shooting.

"Bartram joined in," said Harrison, "and altogether, Hurley was hit about six times."

The sheriff attributed the shootings to a fit of "mad jealousy." They occurred Sunday on isolated Tabor's creek and in nearby Wildcat Hollow.

Deputy Sheriff Delbert May said Hurley appeared in the cabin [illegible] of his mother-in-law on Tabor's creek where he shot his wife and son on sight. Mrs. Skeens, the sister-in-law, fled to her home nearby, taking with her

BRITISH HUNT JAIL BREAKERS

Comb Palestine After Record Prison Delivery Frees 227.

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, May 5—British troops and police fanned out over northern Palestine today in a great manhunt for 227 Jew and Arab prisoners still at liberty after a mass delivery from Acre prison engineered yesterday by the Jewish underground.

Sixteen persons—including 11 members of the underground band who blasted a two-yard hole in the wall of the ancient citadel—were killed in the break, described as one of the biggest in modern times.

A total of 251 of the 555 inmates of the old gray-walled prison north of Haifa participated in the dash for freedom, but five—four Jews and an Arab—were killed before they could make good their escape. Nineteen—eight of them wounded—were captured within a few hours. Twenty-three others were wounded in the exchange of gunfire that accompanied the break.

At least nine of the underground raiders were reported captured uninjured.

All villages in a 120-mile area were placed under close surveillance and highways were blocked every few miles by gun-bristling blockades at which all travelers were checked and all cars searched.

The manhunt, greatest in the history of Palestine, reached from historic Acre itself to Tiberius on the sea of Galilee and north into the Jewish colony area at the headwaters of the Jordan river.

Authoritative sources reported, meanwhile, that an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the delivery had been launched on a high level.

A total of 120 Jews and 131 Arabs were included in the 251 prisoners who took part in the break. Of these 80 were described as members of the Jewish underground serving sentences as terrorists.

MANSFIELD AIRPLANE CRASH FATAL TO 2

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., May 5 — A 20-year-old newly licensed pilot, who was showing his family his aerial prowess, and a 16-year-old cousin were killed seven miles north of Mansfield yesterday in the crash of a light plane in a field.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson of Richland county said Charles Boyce Jr., and his cousin, Lawrence Van Fossen, were flying low over the Boyce farm as members of the family stood by.

The plane, he said, failed to pull out of a dive, burying the nose into the ground. Boyce was killed and Fossen died 30 minutes later in Shapiro General hospital.

The crash occurred during a wind and rainstorm.

MARION IN NAVAL RECRUITING DRIVE

Mayor Indorses Inactive Reserve Program.

Marion will be one of approximately 500 cities throughout the country joining in "Operation Naval Reserve" the Navy's nation-wide campaign to publicize its inactive-reserve program, during the week of May 18-25.

Mayor Harry L. Bowler indorsed the program during a meeting this morning with Chief John T. Daley. Inactive-reserve recruiting officer from Mansfield. Bulletins have been prepared for distribution to the public, prospective members, high-school students and club groups.

The program has been underway here for about two weeks and will last another three weeks, Chief Daley said. Twenty-three were signed up last week, he said.

DAIRY FARMER WINS HIGH AYRSHIRE AWARD

R. W. Zieg Given "Constructive Breeder Prize."

For distinguished success as a breeder of Ayrshire dairy cattle, R. W. Zieg of Zieg farm near Marion, has been presented the "Constructive Breeder Award" by the Ayrshire Breeders' association.

In order to qualify for this honor, which is considered the most coveted prize in dairy cattle circles, it is necessary for the herd to excell in production and type, and in addition a high percentage of the herd must have been bred and developed by the owner. The Zieg cattle were given a rigid physical inspection by official judge Ray G. Griffin of Chadds Ford, Pa., who scored the herd 865, placing it among the top 10 per cent of the breed on type characteristics. Two members of the herd were designated as "excellent," which is the highest rating given any Ayrshire while four others were classified as "very good," which is the second highest score.

On a strictly twice a day milking schedule the entire milking herd of 10 head averaged 11,193 pounds of four per cent milk. No less than 70 per cent of the herd was bred or owned by Zieg for at least four years.

Vet Wife Makes Best of Trailer "Hatchery"

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 5—The other wives at 'The Hatchery"—camps nickname of Indiana university's trailer home community for war vetes—just couldn't understand the viewpoint of little Mrs. Vivian Bolinger.

"I wish George would stay for a year of graduate work after getting his degree," she said. Wonderingly the word swept through the other remodeled wartime trailers, lined up in neat rows by the hundreds west of the university stadium. "Vivian wants George to stay another year."

Hal Boyle

Most veterans and their wives, particularly those with children, want to move on as soon as the family head has his sheepskin. They want to leave their cramped quarters and get started somewhere in new homes.

Vivian—she is pretty and red-haired and her husband calls her "curly"—is an exception. Life is crowded in the small $25-a-month trailer but it has been happy.

Hates House Hunting

'And I just hate the thought of trying to find another place to live,' signed Curly. Like the wives of many veterans she has an outside job to help eke out the government educational allowance of $90 a month. She doesn't mind working.

Most veterans to remain in school have had to borrow from relatives or spend their wartime savings.

Curley's husband, a journalism student who worked in Gary steel mills before spending 18 months in the Pacific, is 29. He anxious to get started in a newspaper career.

So is his pal, Joe Ginsery, 24, Indianapolis a former Air Force gunner in the European theater, who shares a $32.50 trailer with his wife, Pamela, and their three children. Nelson is 4 years old and the twins, Walter (Red) and Joe (Blue) are two. Walter is dressed in red and little Joe in blue so earn can tell himself from the other.

Swarm Over Trailer

The three Gingery children swarm over the 18-by-20-foot trailer like a trio of healthy, husky bear cubs. Their mother, a large friendly gal of placid temperament, has to pack them off to the community nursery when she wants to do housecleaning.

'It makes a big difference in my wife's disposition whether the kids get to nursery school or not," grinned Joe.

Pamela cooks on a small gasoline stove, finds housework something of a chore because the trailers have no running water. It has to be packed about 75 feet from a community outdoor faucet. The families also must use community laundry and toilet facilities.

"I don't mind carrying the water in," said Pamela, 'but I do get tired of having to carry it back out after housecleaning just to throw it away."

Studies Personal Adjustments

Pamela is studying a college course on "personal adjustment and family living." She likes it, and just laughed when I asked her if she didn't think she already knew more about that subject than the professor.

She said the wives get along well and help each other in many ways.

"I feel I can stick it out until my husband gets through college," she said. The Gingerys and Bolingers said they knew of only one veteran and his wife who had failed to stay until the husband completed his university work.

Most veterans are pretty handy men around the trailer and pitch in and help with the dishes, but one wife complained wryly:

"It's funny how many classes they suddenly discover they have to go to when something's got to be done around the house."

'But Joe kept the babies once when I went home for a visit," said Pamela, "and everybody thought he was a wonderful husband.'

'You didn't think so," Joe said, "when you got back and saw what the trailer looked like."

Forest Lawn Pupils In Talent Program

Missionary and Indian Woman Visit Here

A visit to the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Hershey of 150 Homer street, where a Navajo Indian woman and her missionary companion were guests Wednesday, was made by Intermediate Girl Scout No. 27 of George Washington school. Nancy Hershey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hershey, is a member of the troop. Members of the troop and leaders went to the Hershey home following supper at a downtown restaurant. Thursday morning, the missionary, Mrs. George L. Moore, and the Indian woman, Lola Pinto, 20, made an appearance at the school. In her native costume, including Indian jewelry of silver and turquoise, the Indian woman who is married and the mother of a small child, sang songs in the Navajo language. Mrs. Moore told of the customs of the Indian people and of the mission work on the reservation near Gallup, N. M., where she and her own family live. The two were presented at a service in Emmanuel church Wednesday night, and planned to go from here to Medina, then into Pennsylvania for a tour of three more weeks before returning west.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Acne

Acne or pimples is likely to be the worst trial the adolescent boy or girl has to face. Fortunately, though it can cause real distress during the maturing period this skin disorder tends to clear up around the age of eighteen.

That should be some consolation to the afflicted youngster and he should find more in the fact that proper care will do much to lessen, if not entirely banish it.

We do not know the exact cause of acne but Dr. Clara M. Warren of London, believes the use of excessive fats in the diet or the improper use of fat by the body may have a good deal to do with it, particularly where it is accompanied by seborrhea.

Seborrhea is a scaly eruption which often occurs around the nose, and ears and on the scalp. A lack of thyroid secretion may also be a contributing cause for the seborrhea. Long continued fatigue may also be a factor. In such cases the scalp is greasy and the skin shiny.

In treating this stage of acne the patient should get at least nine hours of sleep at night and have a well-balanced diet. Fried foods, chocolate, ice-cream and cream should be avoided.

Thyroid extract is recommended in small doses given in the morning and at night. The skin is treated by gentle sponging with warm, soapy water followed by rinsing with warm water. The hair is washed once a week with a mild soap. Sulfur lotions may help to get rid of the eruption. All of this treatment is important because the seborrhea contributes to the development of acne as well as to the occurrence of blackheads.

In treating the blackheads, Dr. Warren recommends that the face be moistened with warm water, and then a fine coating of soap be applied. Next, with a rubber sponge, pressure is put on the skin and then relaxed. This process is repeated a number of times. Following this, the skin is rinsed with warm water and gently dried.

Such treatment will in many cases get rid of the blackheads. If not, they may have to be squeezed out or even surgical removal may be necessary. Sometimes ultraviolet ray treatments may help to get rid of the blackheads.

In treating the pimples themselves, those which have pus in them may be opened and the infected material drained out. A spray of penicillin or of sulfathiazole may be tried. X-ray treatments are also useful. Various ointments are also helpful such as those containing sulfur and salicylic acid. Of course the physician will decide in each case which of these preparations should be employed.

CONGRESSMAN DIES

ALLENTOWN, Pa., May 5—Rep. Charles L. Gerlach (R-Pa.) 51, who was serving his fifth consecutive term, died Sunday.

SHEEP, LAMB POOL MEETING AT ASHLEY

167 Attend Annual Dinner of Tri-County Group.

One hundred and sixty-seven members and friends attended the second annual meeting and banquet of the Delaware-Morrow-Marion County Sheep Improvement association at Ashley last Thursday.

Senator George Shurtz from Newcomerstown, who is chairman of the senate agricultural committee in the Ohio legislature, was the speaker. He spoke on the things in life that make for the real values and stressed the wealth to be found in a nation when it has strong physical health, good Christian homes and a vital spiritual wealth among its people.

He related incidents from his experiences as a chaplain in World War I and from the political field to illustrate his points.

Jesse Foust, chairman of the improvement committee, served as toastmaster and introduced the guests. These included representatives of Swift & Co., the New York Central Railroad, the Extension Service and the Producers Association.

L. K. Bear, extension sheep specialist speaking on development of a sheep improvement program stated that farmers will follow a practice that pays. In this connection he stated that farmers had found out that the use of pure-bred rams, control of internal and external parasites and good feeding practices pay.

C. F. Fleminger, fieldman from the Producers Association, gave an analysis of the 1947 pools. He stated that there were 422 consignments, an increase of 80 over last year; 285 consignors an increase of 40 over 1945; 9,300 sheep and lambs marketed as compared with 7,737 in 1945. Fifty-seven per cent of the sheep and lambs were marketed after Jan. 1 of this year. Thirty per cent of the wool lambs and 47 per cent of the clipped lambs were in the two top grades.

Frank Jackson of Ashley had charge of the election of directors for two-year terms. From Morrow county Homer Jacoby, Edward Patrick and Ted McClaren were elected. From Delaware county Arthur Jewel of Centerburg and Frank Williams of Sunbury were elected. W. J. Lindsted was elected from Marion county.

The banquet was served by the women of Ashley Grange and dinner music was furnished by the Adams-Hanna orchestra of Harlem township, Delaware county. The entire board including the newly elected directors will meet Thursday, May 15, at Ashley school building to reorganize.

Man Raises His Arms Above His Head For First Time In Years

A few days ago a man said the rheumatic pains in his arms and shoulders disappeared and now he can raise his arms above his head for the first time in years. He said the pains he used to have from this rheumatism were simply awful. Sometimes his knees and hips were stiff and sore, but the pains were mostly in the back of his neck and across his shoulders. Now, however, his suffering is entirely gone and he says the change is due to taking RHU-AID. "Oh! What relief!", states this man. "Why don't other rheumatic sufferers get RHU-AID."

RHU-AID is a new formula. It contains Three Great Ingredients, so it is almost like taking three medicines in one. It goes right to the source of rheumatic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get RHU-AID. Sold by All Drug Stores throughout this section.—Adv.

City Library Adds 152 New Volumes

One hundred fifty-two new books were added to the Carnegie Public Library in March, making a total of 41,388 volumes available, according to a recently released report. Of the new books, 147 were purchased by the board and five were gifts, with 127 of the books for adults and 25 for juveniles.

Circulation for the main library totaled 7,952, and for the county branches, 2,766, and juvenile circulation in the city schools came to a total of 1,433. Circulation in the various county branches was divided as follows: LaRue, 1,336; Prospect, 967; and Caledonia, 463.

With 195 borrowers added during the month at the main library and 41 in the branch libraries, the grand total for registered borrowers for both at the end of the month was 7,811. At LaRue, eight borrowers were added, 14 at Prospect, and 10 at Caledonia.

A tentative program for next year was discussed and plans formulated emphasizing parent-teacher relationships and pupil guidance. The local association will be affiliated with the national organization.

KILLED ON HIGHWAY 68

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE, O., May 5—Harold N. Hiltibran, 28, was killed Sunday when the automobile he was driving from Indian lake to his home at Urbana, O., overturned on U. S. highway 68 near West Liberty.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat.

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Gunfire in the Dardanelles

EXCHANGE of naval gun salutes by Turkish and United States warships in the Dardanelles on Friday made all current diplomacy seem secondary and ineffectual. The ceremony was a booming reminder that this 47-mile stretch of water—47 miles long and centuries deep—is probably greater than any other issue pending between the great powers.

It is, moreover, one of the few issues on which the United States can bring its power to bear. Since the time of Peter the Great, at the turn of the 18th century, Russia has tried to extend its influence southward through the Dardanelles into the Mediterranean basin. Wars and treaties after wars have been concerned with this ambition. In May 1947, there is the same issue—but a few new details.

The United States now has the primary naval power in the Mediterranean; Great Britain's impoverishment has caused it to withdraw. Along with primary naval power, the United States also has primary responsibility for the high policy which goes with naval power; hence, the Truman doctrine, which obligates the United States to support the sovereignty of Turkey and Greece. Russia's hope of controlling the Dardanelles has ebbed and flowed in ratio to the state of Turkish sovereignty. The Ottoman empire's breakup was high tide; development of the modern Turkish state was low tide. The guns that roared in the Hellespont on Friday were a signal that the modern Turkish state has found friends.

Restoring a Name

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S signing of a congressional resolution changes the name of the Colorado River dam back to Hoover Dam in honor of former President Herbert Hoover.

The original Boulder Canyon project act was signed in 1928 by President Coolidge, and Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior in the Hoover administration, named it Hoover Dam in accordance with custom but not legislative action. Early in the New Deal, Harold L. Ickes renamed it Boulder Dam. Aside from Ickes, Senator McCarran of Nevada and a few others of the more virulent Democrats, opposition to the proposal was negligible.

Whether it is Boulder Dam or Hoover Dam is not very important. But the spirit of pettiness which motivated its change in the first place ill becomes a man of cabinet rank. The President's action on the resolution cancels out that petty deed.

Those Awful Landlords

A MAJORITY of house members have gone on record that there is nothing criminal about having saved, or risked, enough money to be a landlord. They have gone even further and given landlords a chance to persuade city and county governments to lift rent controls.

If the proposed legislation containing this gesture of confidence in landlords as citizens of the United States also passes the senate and isn't vetoed by Harry Truman, landlords able to pay exorbitant construction prices will be able to rent new housing units at correspondingly exorbitant rents. Furthermore, if a tenant wants a two-year lease and will take up to a 15 per cent rent increase to get it, the government won't object, under the house bill.

In other words, those awful landlords finally are getting some direct relief in a situation which has left them holding the bag for price and profit control. Roofers, carpenters, plumbers, painters, electricians, window washers, bricklayers, all supplies and all services have gone up. Taxes have gone up. The incomes of many tenants have gone up. But the landlords, for reasons which had more to do with politics than economics, had to be controlled. Under the house bill, they will still be subject to control at least until the end of the year, but the control will be eased.

Landlords may be readmitted to full standing in price inflation eventually, if all goes well. Their traditional practice of charging what the traffic will bear is beginning to look pretty modest compared with what other Americans are charging.

No Flies on Anyone

THE HEAD of the bug department at the University of Idaho says this country could get rid of all houseflies with DDT if the 48 states would stage systematic "no flies" campaigns.

If it ever happens and a researcher looks through the files (not flies) of this newspaper in the 22nd century he may be interested in this statement:

Emancipation of man from houseflies, and eventually other insect pests, if it occurred any time in the 20th century, would be next to atomic fission, the only memorable thing about the whole century. Everything else was pretty humdrum—a few wars, a lot of struggling—nothing worth noting a century later.

The manufacture of paper in Europe was first established by the Moors in Spain in the middle of the 12th century, the headquarters of the industry being Xativa, Valencia, and Toledo.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Newburyport Outstrips Truman on Prices.

WASHINGTON, May 4 — Newburyport did more about prices than Mr. Truman was able to do, or did. A flat 10 per cent retail cut is not fully feasible, no doubt, but the vital thing is the plan of a small town has risen to be considered a possible national pattern. Local leadership did something about a problem, where national leadership was unable to act effectively, but merely groaned about the deplorable situation.

The assumption of local leadership, indeed, has become something of a national political fad since the idea was first advanced in this column March 4 and April 22 reporting how well local leadership has worked in Our Town.

The New Deal trend toward greater and greater mass action through centralization of all responsibility for all living ills in a single authority, is thus being reversed by the people themselves. They have developed a tendency to take hold of living problems on a front they see and occupy, rather than wandering hopelessly and helplessly behind leaders who think in terms of pressing one world buttons for global action on a universal front—buttons which never called. The people, acting locally, are getting things tackled and getting things done.

Hoover View

Now in the matter of juvenile delinquency, the federal government has been viewing with alarm. J. Edgar Hoover has been writing that parental delinquency is responsible, as it largely is, and certain conferences have been promoted and action planned, although all these steps seem to be little more effective in mitigating the problem, than when a certain first lady thought the solution lay in the federal government appropriating more money for more playgrounds to be built by the city political machines for use by youth without trying to cure the delinquency in playgrounds already in use. But—

When a national group of 800 socially minded citizens met here to plan national action on juvenile delinquency, under auspices of the federal government, they raised only $2,300. Imagine this! A national plan of action drew enough interest from the chiefly interested to bring only $2,300. Naturally this was not published, although the papers wasted large space for the accumulated prophesies of the delegates about what they were going to do — prophesies which could hardly be fulfilled for $2,300.

Similarly when a juvenile delinquency branch of the justice department was opened here some four or five months ago to promote federal action against the social maladies of youth, not a federal dollar was available to sustain it. The director, Miss Eunice Kennedy, arrived to find the office bare. She did not even have a desk. All there was a telephone to aid the juvenile delinquency problem. And today four months later, she still has received no appropriation. While the federal expenditures are running annually above $30 billion she has been given no money.

Making Progress

Not at all strangely, she is doing quite well. She has interested local bar associations, local civic workers, governors, mayors—all interested local groups—in a local approach to the problem. All she needed was to get someone locally to take hold. In the jungle (the Stock Yards area) of Chicago, an intelligent experimental system of meeting local youth social abuses has been instituted. She is working on one for Harlem to be put into effect this year. A committee of the local District of Columbia Bar association has become interested here. The governor of New Jersey has called a state conference.

Thus at least someone is doing something about it, instead of just sitting around deploring. And without money!

Now these people interested in localizing the juvenile delinquency action realize no one can provide a button or a series of buttons to be pushed to cure the condition. No doubt much juvenile delinquency can never be cured. There will always be bad boys and girls among the general run. But these people feel that local surroundings and local personalities involved, may best be understood by local investigation and remedial steps therefore can best be taken by local leadership. A coordinating federal information bureau to let each community know what the other found and did, fits in with this new centralized approach. Together they may get genuine remedial action on the home front, whereas all the rich government agencies (I think there are 7 federal bureaus dealing with juveniles) have been able to do about it is to pour money down a deepening hole.

Plainly, This Is A Grave Offense

A Washington thief has been apprehended with a basement full of loot, including, among other things, a 600-pound tombstone.

It is not thought likely the judge will believe his story about taking it in a moment of weakness.

This is the third case of tombstone larceny to come to my attention in recent months. Is there a growing traffic in hot epitaphs?

It's getting to the place that, in addition to the conventional dates and "R I P" marble merchants may have to place on their wares the carved inscription "$500 Reward for Information Leading to the Arrest and Conviction of Anyone Removing This Stone from the Premises."

Still, I cannot conceive of any possible demand for secondhand markers, unless maybe to be broken up and used as door-steps.

In fact, what excuse can a man offer for purloining a tombstone except maybe to say he just took it for granite?

The Fort on the Bay

FORT CHURCHILL on Hudson Bay is becoming the principal testing ground for Arctic equipment of the United States and Canadian Armies. At present the United States has a permanent party of 105 engineer troops there, but that contingent will grow to 500 when facilities are available for Medical, Quartermaster and Signal Corps and Ordnance Department.

Canada believes that Fort Churchill, although ice-bound part of the year, can be developed into one of the great ports of North America. Situated in one of the dreariest sections of the sub-Arctic north, the settlement nevertheless has great commercial potentialities, the development of which were halted by the war. It is the terminus of a one-track rail line from The Pas, Man. At last reports two mixed trains a week were being dispatched from The Pas over the long route which bridges swift rivers and mile after mile of spongy muskeg, passing tiny settlements with such names as Thicket, Kettle Rapids and Mile 241.

Laterally, Fort Churchill is half way across North America, yet it is so far north that it is 70 miles nearer Liverpool, England than is Montreal. Canada hopes that someday the harvests of the prairie provinces will go to Hudson Bay loading elevators instead of being hauled all the way to Montreal. Another possible source of Fort Churchill's future importance is the vast latent hydro-electric power of the Churchill river once known as the Minnisippi, Mother of Waters, but changed to avoid confusion with the Father of Waters.

Daily Bible Thought

It is silly to imagine that our world so amazingly complex, so infinitely ingenious, originated by chance or is carried on by perpetual motion. We must harmonize our lives with eternal law. "In the beginning God created."—Genesis 1.1.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, May 5, 1937.

Wallis Simpson and her gay duke walked arm in arm in the grounds of the ancient chateau de Cande at Monts, France. It was presumed they were making their wedding plans. Police at various gates were doubled to keep the curious out.

Mrs. John Buck of near Meeker received word of the death of her son, Alfred Buck, 33, in a hospital at Honolulu on April 30. The young man, a native of Morral, at the age of 14 had responded to adventure's call and enlisted in the army.

It as announced that Walter E. Johnson of the Pleasant township school eighth grade had placed first in the countywide eighth grade tests held the latter part of April. He scored 167 points out of a possible 200.

A family dinner and open house marked the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoch, residing six miles south of Marion.

Miss Mary Heininger was elected president of the Athenaeum club in a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Russell Wilson of Bucyrus.

Mrs. W. T. Owen was presented a dozen white carnations, flower of Mary Harris Armor W.C.T.U., in recognition of her being the oldest mother present, at a meeting of the members in the home of Mrs. Margaret Jones on South Vine street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, May 5, 1927.

Announcement was made that an unnamed citizen of Marion had offered to contribute $100,000 for construction of a building to provide a home for the Y.M.C.A., a Y.W.C.A. and the Boy Scouts, providing other citizens contributed $400,000.

Henry Judd Gray, on trial with his paramour, Ruth Brown Snyder for the murder of her husband, Albert Snyder, reenacted the crime in his testimony before the jury in Long Island City, N. Y. He placed all the blame on Mrs. Snyder.

Miss Blanche Converse was hostess for a miscellaneous shower at her home on Pennsylvania avenue for Miss Anna Marie Anderson, whose marriage to Clifford Gilmore of Detroit was to take place the following week.

Mrs. Clarence Golenflo was hostess to the Clever Workers club at her home on East Mark street.

Marion Lodge of Elks made arrangements for the annual observance of Mother's Day in services May 8 in which Fred W. Warner was to give the address.

Prizes amounting to $90 were presented winners in a good health and pure food poster contest conducted in the city schools. The awards, made by the State Federation of Women's clubs, assisted by the Pure Food Dealers association and Parent-Teacher Council, were presented at the closing banquet of the State Federation of Women's Clubs in the Star auditorium by C. Z. Zachman, president of the Ohio Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers association. The grand prizes went to Mary Betty Schrader, Glenn Duffey, Georgia Miller and Wanda Parthemore.

Select Cotton

Rayon now competes with cotton as material for the cords in automobile tires. But cotton may compete with cotton. Fibers from plants specially bred for strength by the Southern Regional Research Laboratory have shown up well in Ordnance Department tests of tires. Plant selection to produce the material fit to take the punishment is a logical development in research on vegetable products.—O. S. U. Science and Appliance.

Wallace and the Great Debate

By STEWART ALSOP

LONDON, May 5—Unless the crystall balls of a great many politicians, economists and other observers here are more than usually clouded, by next year, when the dollars of the American loan will probably have run out, a great debate will be raging on both sides of the Atlantic. The issue of this debate will be of profound historic importance. For in essence it will be concerned with whether this island is to remain Great Britain or to become Little England, with whether or not England is to remain a major force in world affairs.

The debate has already been in intermittent progress here for many months. It is the essential point at issue between Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and the Labor party rebels Bevin, backed by the great majority in parliament, wishes to cooperate with the United States in containing Soviet expansion, and wishes England to continue to carry her heavy load of international commitments to the best of her ability. The rebels, on the other hand, wish to divorce British policy completely from American policy, to cut British commitments all over the world and to follow a policy of appeasement toward the Soviet Union.

Few observers believe that the issue will be decided until some time next year, when it is almost universally expected that the great British economic crisis will come to a head. Meanwhile, however, a kind of sneak preview, a special flare-up of the issue was occasioned by the recent visit here of Henry Agard Wallace, under the auspices of "The New Statesman and Nation," intellectual organ of the Labor rebels.

Varied View of Wallace

In certain political quarters Walace was hailed as a Daniel come to judgment, and in others as a fool and a rogue. But the most general reaction seems to have been one of genuine puzzlement. An American in these parts is very apt to be asked, "What is Wallace really getting at, anyway?" That is not an easy question to answer. But whatever he has been trying to get at, the net effect of his visit has certainly been to strengthen the hands of all those who would like to see a wedge driven between the foreign policies of England and the United States.

Wallace has a special capacity for allowing himself to be used as a sounding board. The extent to which this is true is illustrated by an apparently reliable description of the way in which his first, important London speech was prepared. The speech was roughed out at a meeting between Wallace, Michael Straight, amiable and intelligent angel of "The New Republic," R. H. S. Crossman, spokesman and leader of the Labor party rebels, and Kingsley Martin, chief of the rebels' brain trust, and editor of "The New Statesman." Crossman and Martin are two of the most brilliant and articulate (if occasionally badly misinformed) men in England.

Lively Conference

At this meeting, they are reported to have positively glittered with brilliance. They strode up and down sending forth a rich shower of ideas, while Straight acted as an awed amanuensis, jotting down the jewels which fell from the English lips, and Henry Wallace watched the display with an air of misty benevolence. Then in Central Hall in Westminster, Wallace, carefully wrapped in the political mantle of Franklin Roosevelt, read a speech which was largely a result of this curious collaboration. The speech, together with others which followed, has of course provided Crossman, Martin and their followers with much useful ammunition for attacks on the Labor government for working too closely with "imperialist" America.

Other groups also found Wallace a useful sounding board here. At least two high Labor party officials have expressed honest bewilderment that he allowed himself to appear under sponsorship of such organizations as the Lancashire Trades council and the British Students' federation. According to these men, any knowledgeable British trades unionist knows that the Lancashire organization was captured by the Communists some years ago, and that the students' federation is one of the most closely controlled of the British Communist party fronts.

Evidence of Confusion

Wallace is no more a Communist than the vast majority of the Labor party rebels. Yet that he appeared under such auspices is as typical of his confusion of mind as the fact that names like that of Howard Fast appeared on the embossed scroll of greetings from American "progressives" to British progressives which Wallace brought with him. Wallace could hardly have been ignorant of the fact that Fast's name also appeared on the masthead of the Communists' "New Masses." It is this sort of thing which goes a long way toward justifying the description of Wallace which appeared in an English newspaper: "A Child in a Great Dark."

There is no doubt that Wallace's short descent on England has its effect, and that many people here are vaguely convinced that since Wallace repeatedly pointed out that he wanted peace, President Truman and Secretary of State George C. Marshall must want war. But the effect can be exaggerated.

Speed of Ratification

THIRTEEN states have ratified the pending anti-third term amendment by April 21. That is fast work, inasmuch as the amendment was submitted to the legislatures only on March 28. However, all the ratifying states have been outside the South, while one southern state, Oklahoma, refused to take action.

Opponents of the amendment call it a slap at the late President Roosevelt and if the predominantly Democratic states view it in this light, ratification will be a touch-and-go affair. Whatever happens to it, it will be impossible for the amendment to be ratified this year, and it is not likely that it will be ratified before 1949.

All but three of the state legislatures were in session this year but 24 already have adjourned while only nine have scheduled sessions for 1948. That means that despite its flying start the amendment is a long way from obtaining the approval of the 36 states to make it part of the Constitution.

No other amendment has received so many ratifications so quickly. The only amendment ratified by all the states was the 20th (lame duck) which was before the states just short of a year. The most speedily ratified amendment was the 21st (repeal) which went before state conventions and was approved in 9½ months.

It took 18 months to get the 18th amendment into the Constitution and the 19th (women's suffrage) received final ratification in 13½ months.

The Once Over

The 1947 Circus

WE HAVE made our inspection of the circus and here is our verdict: It's colossal, stupendous, and spine-tingling, but it smells too good.

* * *

The trend has been on for a decade now to the greatest show on earth, while more death-defying, breath-taking and sensational than ever, has been beautified, prettied, embellished and glamorized, air conditioned and perfumed that the smell "so dear to the heart of my childhood" have been removed. And its too bad.

* * *

A circus should smell like a circus. We have been a circus addict from the age of six up and our childhood you could smell a circus as it pulled over the hills into town. There was a smell so distinct, so overpowering, yet so pleasant. And it smelled in all departments, not just in the camel, seal and elephant areas.

* * *

In case you couldn't get to the circus lot you could go out on the porch, take a deep breath and feel that you were present. But now all changed, this season more than ever. They have finally got the circus where it smells sweet and looks clean. We are glad it didn't happen sooner.

* * *

The circus to be correctly catalogued now falls somewhere between such things as a Rodgers & Hammerstein musical, a superman broadcast, a beauty parade and a child's dream of a walk night in the Roman coliseum with Nero permitting Hans Christian Anderson to come on the program as a guest artist.

* * *

It is loaded with new and tremendously dangerous acts. Never have so many necks been risked over so few nets. But with the disappearance of the old-time authentic circus aroma has gone the element of roughness and toughness. The men and women who risked their necks used to look it. They seemed so battered that you had the feeling they not only had had a nearly-fatal fall in the previous performance, but hadn't healed up yet.

* * *

Today they looked so pristine, so jaunty and so fresh that it takes something from the act. They leave you with a feeling that it couldn't be so dangerous or they wouldn't look so unscathed, unbandaged and untouched.

* * *

Not that we don't like the show. It is terrific. But we like more of the haphazard, quickly contrived, roughneck mood, and more sawdust. Nothing irked us more than the 1947 circus band. It was faultlessly garbed and played splendidly. A circus band should look lousy and play lousy.

* * *

But we saw it at Madison Square Garden, N. Y. On the road it may get its odors back and its costumes dirtied up. The trip to a circus in New York is a journey by cut rate drugstore ham and eggeries, parking lots and honky-tonks. A trip to the circus on the road is a journey across green pastures and over stone fences with the scent of apple blossoms, home-cooked chicken pies and the fresh-turned earth. That's sumpin'.

THE SKIRMISHER

("Generalissimo Stalin told me the Moscow disagreements were only the first skirmishes and brushes of reconnaissance forces"—General Marshall)

"The time has come," the marshall said,
To end all threats of war"
"I'm skirmishing,' the stalin said,
And tripped him to the floor.

"We must have peace," the bevin said,
"It's time we did begin";
"Oh come and let us skirmish," said
The stalin with a grin.

Henry Wallace put his foot on top of a microphone in a broadcast the other day. Everything came through with the usual clarity.

"A speaker cannot hold a press conference and speak to a radio audience at one time," was Henry's alibi for refusing to speak into the mike the right way. In one way he is right. It leaves no outlet for an "I was misquoted" statement.

Trinkets for Our Times

By TRUMAN TWILL

Pull up an overstuffed pocketbook and make yourself comfortable. The newest pitch in jewelry is to have your trinkets made to order. This is going to cost a little extra. So the pitch on the pitch is to placate papa by having the trinkets represent something he does or is interested in, like maybe running a bank or betting on horses.

For a banker, have old coins replated in yellow gold and mounted with canary yellow diamonds on a gold ring, suggests the blurb for this precious promotion. Or have the man run up a trinket made to look like a bolt of dry goods, a piece of real estate, or a truck. Whoops. Or a bottle of liquor, maybe, or a bag of fertilizer.

There's no limit. To keep the old man happy have your trinkets represent golf clubs or carpenter tools. If he's an airplane nut, now about a two-seater in diamond chips, or a platinum propeller? Maybe he'd feel better about the lack for the trinket if it had been custom-made to look like a lawnmower. He's crazy about lawnmowers. Or an outboard motor, a fly rod, a set of platinum horseshoes, or a pair of quartz dice set with amethysts.

Beginning to see the possibilities in this sort of thing, girl? Does your old man make his dough in a crooked business? What you need is a silver pretzel. Did he make his fortune in the big war? How about a white double cross on a background of imitation jade?

There's much to be said for this idea, even from the trinket angle. It would save hurt feelings if all ladies, perhaps all men, too, were to wear the badge of the family income. Honest toil would be a single seed pearl representing a drop of sweat on a workman's brow. Trouble making would be symbolized by a golden asp. Profiteering by 40%, suspended by a single strand of human hair.

Quacks would wear ducks, card sharps the ace of spades, chipjoint proprietors a pair of pearl shears, politicians a short section of fence to sit on, professional flag-waivers a flag to wave, native-grown communists a sickle, native-grown fascists a hankman's knot, suckers a sucker and so on.

Before starting a conversation, strangers would look at the symbols on the other fellow's breast and know what topics to avoid. There could be trinkets to tell about religion, education, lodge affiliations, age, marital status, politics and hobbies. The job is already being half done with lapel buttons and pins. It would be no trouble to do the thing up brown and tickle the jewelry makers down to their last carat—no trouble at all.

More than 50,000,000 pairs, or about one of every five pairs of non-rubber boots, shoes and slippers made in the United States in the first half of 1945 were made in New York state.

The contest is between:

1. The Bell system, a group of over 20 companies controlled by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

2. The National Federation of Telephone Workers, a loose organization of 49 semi-independent unions.

Want One Big Union

The NFTW is trying to convert itself into one big strong union to be called the Communications Workers of America.

NFTW affiliates held a convention at Denver last November and decided to become one union not later than June 10.

As a part of the drive toward a stronger union, the NFTW wanted to bargain in the present dispute as a national unit, across the table from the Bell system also acting as a unit. It also wanted any wage increase to be uniform throughout the country. And it wanted to continue the strike until all parts of it were settled.

Bell officials don't like the trend toward union centralization.

They wanted separate negotiations with each union. They wanted any wage increases to reflect the differences in wage levels that now exist in different regions and communities. They wanted to sign contracts with the separate unions without having the NFTW pass upon the terms.

Makes Comparison

One Bell official says, "If you were running a blacksmith shop you wouldn't want somebody a thousand miles off telling you that you had to raise wages a certain amount regardless of conditions in your community."

While the A. T. and T. has financial control of the Bell companies, Bell officials say that the companies act independently in their labor relations, and each company is responsible for operations in its own territory.

The union is scornful of this contention. Union officials say that A. T. and T. pulls the strings for the whole network of companies, and that no company can make a move without getting a go-signal from 195 Broadway in New York City.

In the NFTW as well as the Bell system, the relationship of the central body with its member groups is unusual. The NFTW has a policy committee of 49 members. But the unions are not compelled to submit their actions to this policy committee. They can if they want to, but they don't have to. Each union has the authority to sign a contract.

Offer Arbitration

The A. T. and T. and many of its companies have offered to let the wage issue be settled by arbitration, though not on a national, blanket basis for all companies.

But in general, the companies have held back any wage offers until they had assurance that the union involved possesses the authority to make a settlement.

The A. T. and T. long lines department made its first wage offer Friday after getting this written assurance from the American Union of Telephone Workers, the long lines group.

The union did not promise not to submit a settlement to the policy committee.

Yet it is true that the NFTW policy committee has gradually receded from the limelight as the strike has lengthened.

Wage offers now have popped out in various places.

But—so far at least—they have not shaped up on a uniform nationwide pattern as demanded by the NFTW.

The NFTW appears to be losing this phase of its drive. What effect this will have on the NFTW's dream of one strong union remains to be measured.

Red Men To Initiate Large Class Tuesday

Initiation of a large class of candidates will be held at a meeting of Chippewa Tribe No. 30, Improved Order of Red Men, Tuesday night, May 6, at the Democratic hall on West Center street. Several candidates are expected to be present from other tribes in the state to receive the degree.

Roy Russell, sachem of the local tribe, has announced that the degree team from the Stillwater Tribe at Hilliards, O., one of the youngest in Ohio, will be present to confer the All-American degree. The team has gained wide recognition for its work and in the past has been invited to several large council meetings throughout the state to be in charge of degree work.

A large number of out-of-town visitors will be present, among them some of the great chiefs of the Great Council of Ohio.

The Improved Order of Red Men was recently reorganized in Marion.

At the meeting Tuesday night, there will be nomination of officers for the new term. Refreshments will be served following the meeting with Chester ... chairman of the social committee in charge.

FINED ON CONDUCT CHARGE

Merril Loper, 25, of 318 Park street was arrested on South Main street and charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct at 1:25 this morning. The arrest occurred after he tried to pick a fight with another person, police said. He pleaded not guilty at his first appearance in municipal court this morning but reconsidered and changed the plea to guilty. He was fined $25 and costs.

350 Attend Eagles District Meet Here

Approximately 350 Fraternal Order of Eagles members representing lodges in Upper Sandusky, Kenton, Willard, Bucyrus, Carey, Tiffin and Marion were here Sunday for an all-day meeting of Ohio district No. 14 of the Tri-State Jurisdiction. The meeting was held in the local lodge rooms.

A feature of the session was initiation of 24 candidates in honor of the steering committee chairman, Lee Collins. It was also a class in honor of Mother's day.

Principal speaker was John Connor of Lima, state inside guard. He spoke briefly on Mother's day and then talked on Eagles' activities.

Lloyd Lundy of Upper Sandusky, district director, also complimented the Marion aerie on its large increase in members. The local aerie has secured 462 new members since the first of June, 1946, and to date has a total membership of 2,282.

Following the meeting in the afternoon, dinner was served to approximately 550 persons, Eagle members and their families, by the ladies' auxiliary drill team with Mrs. Mary Merrow as chairman. Entertainment included Army pictures shown by Sgt. Loren E. Brandon of the local Army recruiting office, and music by Forrest Gustin and his orchestra of Marion.

Howard Wharton, worthy president of the Marion lodge, announced election of officers to be held at the meeting next Wednesday night.

Ohio Appropriations Bill Due for Vote

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 5—House leaders are prepared to bring the $585,000,000 general appropriation bill to vote in the house Wednesday afternoon and possibly the Daniels-Cramer school bill on Thursday.

These will be the first pieces of major legislation to come before the entire house body for approval during the 17 weeks the legislature has been in session.

Organized labor also is expected to rally its forces against the Riners bill to permit self-insuring employers to insure their risks in liability insurance companies and authorizing them to pay compensation direct to injured employes. The senate insurance committee has scheduled its first hearing on the bill next Tuesday evening.

3 KILLED IN AUTO SMASHES

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., May 5 — Three northern Ohio women were dead today and four men were injured, one seriously, after automobile accidents in the Akron and Youngstown areas yesterday. Mrs. Helen Summerix, 36, and Thelma Robinson, 18, both of Akron, were killed in the collision of two automobiles two miles south of Akron on the Akron-Massillon road, while Mrs. Anne Marie Mosley of Warren was injured fatally when an auto in which she was riding collided with a stone wall at Youngstown.

FRENCH CHIEF FACES UNCERTAIN FUTURE

By The Associated Press

PARIS, May 5—Premier Paul Ramadier faced an uncertain future today as he embarked upon the experiment of government without the powerful, labor-controlling Communist party.

The Socialist premier dropped the five Communist ministers from his coalition cabinet last night after winning a 360 to 318 vote of confidence in his wage-freezing policies, with the Communist members dissenting.

Ousted from the cabinet were Vice-Premier Maurice Thorez, Francois Billoux, national defense; Charles Tillon, reconstruction, and Mabroise Croizat, labor.

Georges Marrane, health minister, was due to resign today. He was not present during yesterday's vote.

No new ministers were added. Incumbents among the Socialists, MRP and Radical Socialist parties simply took over the Communists' jobs. The most important portfolio changes gave Radical Socialist Yvon Delbos the defense ministry—choicest post the Communists had—and Socialist Robert LaCoste the labor ministry.

It was not apparent, however, that the cabinet shake-up had brought any solution to the situation which prompted it. Approximately 3,200 Renault auto workers still were on strike demanding 10 francs per hour more pay. Communists were still backing the strike, which is why they refused to favor the vote of confidence.

Retired Railroader Dies in Crestline

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, May 5—William Marion Overlander, 81, retired Pennsylvania railroad engineer of Crestline died at Emergency hospital at 10 a. m. Sunday where he was admitted Saturday. He was born March 20, 1856, in Darlington, Pa., a son of the late Peter and Mary Overlander. He was twice married, the first wife preceeded him in death. His second marriage was in 1927 to Mrs. Elizabeth Tracht, who survives.

He was retired from active service in 1926 after 55 years for the railroad. He was a member and past president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and of the Veterans Association of the Railroad and the local Methdist church.

OHIOAN KILLED BY AUTO

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON C. H., O., May 5—A 45-year-old New Holland man was killed and a 14-year-old girl injured critically last night when an automobile struck his bicycle eight miles east of Washington C. H. on U. S. route 22. The dead man was Chalmer Russell. Jean Massie, also of New Holland, who was riding on the handlebars of the bicycle, is a patient in Mt. Carmel hospital in Columbus. Sheriff Orland Hayes of Fayette county said the girl's 16-year-old brother also was riding a bicycle with Russell, but ran into the ditch and escaped injury. He said the driver of the car was blinded by approaching lights.

EXECUTIVES ATTACK NEWBURYPORT PLAN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 5—Two speakers on the Columbus Town Meeting broadcast Sunday attacked the Newburyport, Mass., plan for a general 10 per cent cut in retail prices as unsound.

Walter Morrow, president of the American Retail Federation of Washington, D. C., described the plan as "an absolutely uneconomic device mainly useful to focus public attention on prices."

Many items in stores, Morrow said, were priced properly in spite of excessive profits in some industries. He asserted the average working man now received "30 per cent greater real wages than in 1939."

Also assailing the Newburyport plan, John C. Gebhart, director of research for the National Association of Manufacturers, said, "you cannot assume that a 10 per cent cut across the line can correct unbalanced prices."

The post-war period was described by Dr. Robert D. Patton, Ohio State university professor of economics, as "lush for all except the white collar workers."

C. D. Blubaugh, who represented farmers on the WLW food commission to Europe, declared that high farm profits were not responsible for high food prices.

"Our farm profits at the present time," he said, "are lower than they were in 1946 and are on the decline."

Two-Way Development Ups Phone Peace Hope

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 5—The possibility of a two-way development in wage negotiations spurred hopes of federal conciliators today for settlement of the nationwide telephone strike.

As the country-wide walkout entered its fifth week, government mediators centered their attention on prospects that:

1. Officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's long lines division might bring along a counter wage proposal when they resume talks with representatives of the division's 20,000 long distance workers.

2. Stalemated negotiations between the Southwestern Bell Telephone Workers union might enter the wage discussion stage for the first time.

Cross N. Y. Picket Line

Employes of the New York Telephone Company, members of four independent unions that agreed to a $4 weekly wage increase, started back to their jobs today, crossing picket lines of other unions still on strike.

Solon's Death Delays Greek Aid Debate

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 5—The start of history-shaping debate on the issue of help to Greece and Turkey in combatting Communism was postponed by the house today because of the death of Rep. Charles L. Gerlach, Pennsylvania Republican.

Gerlach was a member of the foreign affairs committee, which is in charge of the $400,000,000 aid bill.

House leaders agreed to defer opening of debate until tomorrow and adjourn promptly today out of respect to Gerlach, who died at his Allentown, Pa., home of heart attack.

TREE DWELLER'S HOME LOOTED. An agile burglar, according to C. Melkin Arslanian (above), forced his way into his tree-top home (right) in West Orange, N. J., and stole several books, two alarm clocks and a deer skin. Rug dealer Arslanian, who has lived in his exclusive abode for a good number of years, told police that the intruder probably made his way up a ladder that rests at the the foot of the tree while he is away.

WALDO LEGION POST PLANS MEMORIAL DAY

Harry Ruth Named General Chairman for Observance.

Porter-Snyder Post No. 605 of the American Legion held its regular meeting in the post rooms at Waldo Thursday. This meeting was highlighted by combat pictures of the past war, shown by the army recruiting service of Marion.

Plans were discussed and committees named for the annual Memorial service to be held in the town park on Sunday, May 25. The following officers and committees were announced: general chairman, Harry Ruth, post commander; grand marshall, Clyde Porterfield; master of ceremonies H. L. Swick; finance committee, Clyde Porterfield, I. O. Baker, Ralph Mack; program, H L. Swick, Mrs Leo Groll, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bernow; flowers, Mrs. John Ward, chairman; grave marking, John Ward, Ralph Mack; parade, John Ward, Jack Bender, Louis Klingel, Ralph Augenstein; seating and stands, Jack Augenstein, Charles Kaelber, William Wheeler, Elmer Cramer, Clarence Briggs, Paul Augenstein; decorating, Ralph Gabler, Lowell Gaston, Leo Groll, Frank Edwards; transportation, Robert Michaels, Clark Halea, V. PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"
DANGER IN NEGLECT
No one should ever think of (hemorrhoids) as a mild disorder.
Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling and general nervous irritability.
Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

explained, by sawing a bar in the bullpen, crawling through a corridor, prying a door with a bar and slipping into the attic through a trapdoor.

From the attic the three escapees went through a window onto a ledge, walked the ledge to the rear of the building and lowered themselves to the ground on knotted blankets.

The jail break was discovered at 9:30 p. m. last night.

Elkins, the sheriff said, refused to leave with the men, preferring to stay in the bullpen in his bare feet.

All three fugitives were awaiting the April term of the Jackson county grand jury. Deer was charged with robbing a Hitchcock poker party about two miles south of Oak Hill in Jackson county, and Seagraves and Bennett were being held in connection with an auto theft.

Good Service Does Not Just Happen . . .
When the services provided by a funeral director are unusually well managed, you may be reasonably certain that it did not just happen to turn out that way.
There are so many items to look after, and usually so many people to be considered, that it requires definite planning all the way. Professional services, staff services, cemetery arrangements and deliveries of equipment all must be coordinated into a proper order.
Those who entrust arrangements to the Hughes Funeral Home find just such an understanding and competent service. They also find that it costs no more—often less—than any other kind.

U.S. BLOCKS RUSSIAN JEWISH UN VOTE BID

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 5—The United States stood firm today against Russian demands that the Jews be given a full voice on the floor of the United Nations assembly during the current Palestine debate.

The Russian-backed Slav bloc, on the other hand, appeared to be wavering. This appeared evident as it held in readiness an alternative plan aimed at assuring the Jews a hearing in committee deliberations, if not in plenary meetings.

As the delegates assembled to resume debate on this controversial problem in plenary session, informed quarters said the United States would accept the compromise proposal only on condition that it restricted the Jews to the status of witnesses on call before the assembly's 55-nation political committee.

The United States was said to feel that the official Jewish Agency for Palestine and other organizations should not be permitted to participate fully in the debate, even before the political committee, and should not be allowed to appear at all before plenary meetings.

Appeals Conviction To U.S. High Court

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 5 — Jerome A. Nevius today asked the supreme court to reverse an Ohio supreme court finding that he was properly convicted on a charge of accepting large sums of money as a bribe.

Nevius in a petition filed with the high court asserted that the judge who conducted the trial in common pleas court of Clark county, Ohio, "followed a course of conduct indicating a strong bias and prejudice" against him.

$5,300.13 SPENT ON BUCYRUS PLAY PARK

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, May 5—Starting its third year, the Lions club playground has expended $5,300.13 of its total receipts during the two years.

The club today reported a financial balance of $654.35.

Playground equipment is being purchased and will be installed soon. Tennis courts, a horseshoe court and a shuffle board court will be added to the grounds this year as well as teeter totters, swings, slides and a merry go round.

The bulk of the club's receipts came from last year's corn show which brought in $3,466. A sponsored bazaar netted $1,042 in 1946 and a similar event this year brought in $771. Contributions of $1,225 have been received.

The last was purchased at a cost of $1,495 and grading, tiling, etc., cost approximately $1,800. Lights were installed at a cost of approximately $1,560.

Both night and twilight city and church league softball games have been scheduled at the diamond this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Bain celebrated their sixty-third wedding anniversary March 27 this year. Aside from their daughter, Mrs. DeLong they have a son, Forest Bain of Redlands, Calif.

The son of Rev. and Mrs. John Bain, Mr. Bain was born near DeCliff and has always lived in Marion county. His father, a native of Dundee, Scotland, was engaged in farming, was a licensed minister and also served in the state legislature With Mrs. Bain he is best known for his interest in children and both have devoted many years to the interest and care of children whose home lives brought them in contact with civil authorities.

Worked in Toledo

In 1915 Mr. Bain went to Toledo where for six years he was assitant to the president of the Toledo Newsboys association. He served for a number of years as a member of the board of trustees of Marion township and was actively interested in the reclamation and care of the old Quarry street cemetery.

His many hobbies include flowers, hunting and fishing, and he is the owner of a valuable and unusual collection of firearms. In addition to the care of his flowers he made three trips to northern Michigan last year to fish and last fall went hunting near the Bain homestead. A trip planned for the coming summer is in Michigan to fish.

How Ohio Congressmen Voted on Roll Calls

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 5—How Ohio members of congress were recorded as voting on roll calls last week:

TAFT ASKS G.O.P. PARLEY ON SOCIAL LEGISLATION

Wants Republicans To Fit Program with Financial Policy.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 5—Senator Taft of Ohio called on senate and house Republicans today to decide how far they want to go this year in expanding government activities in such fields as social security, housing, health and education.

Taft, who heads the senate Republican policy committee, told a reporter he will name a subcommittee soon to confer with a similar house group on general G. O. P. policy toward measures which call for increased federal expenditures at a time when they expenditures at a time when the party is trying desperately to cut President Truman's budget

"I think we should have a Republican policy on these matters and decide what we want to do in this session of congress about the proposed expansion of some government activities while we are cutting down on others," the Ohio senator said.

He made it plain that despite his sponsorship of bills to provide housing, health and education assitance, he is willing to abide by the composite Republican decision on these and similar matters.

AUTOMOBILE HITS 10-YEAR-OLD BOY

Accident Occurs at Main and Center Streets.

Ten-year-old Morris Prater of 136½ North Main street was struck by an auto driven by Lloyd Brocklesby, 32, of near Galion at the intersection of Main and Center streets at 8:40 p. m. Sunday, according to a police department report. He suffered only minor injuries and was taken to City hospital by Mr. Brocklesby. He was released after treatment and the hospital reports his condition as good.

Three other weekend traffic accidents were reported to the police.

Cars driven by William R. Amrine, 17, of 508 North Main street and George R. Marshall, 18, of 546 Toledo avenue were involved in an accident occurring at 3:31 p. m. Saturday on Indiana avenue.

Both George H. Bailey, 52, of 701 Roslyn place and William F. Herrigal, 53, of 350 Fahey street were watching a train on the eastbound main track and their autos collided on Mill street when the Herrigal car pulled away from the curb. The accident occurred Saturday afternoon at 3:06.

Cars driven by Mrs. Geneva B. Fail of near Marion and Fred W. Smith of 691 Davids street collided at the intersection of Prospect and George streets at 5:15 p. m. Saturday.

KILLS FOUR

Lawrence and Aileen, and barricaded herself inside.

With Aileen still in her arms, she was killed and the two children were wounded when Hurley fired a burst of shots through a window. Hurley made his way to nearby Wildcat Hollow where he killed his brother, apparently without warning while he worked underneath his car.

Hurley and his family came to Marion last August and lived in a small three-room house on a lot west of 1007 Bennett street. Authorities here listed his children as Leonard, 18; James, 16; Hannah, 12; Allen, 9; Edith, 6; Jay, 3 and Aileen, 9 months. All of the children, except Leonard who was reported to have been working in a town in southern Ohio, were with their parents until last September when Mrs. Hurley and three of the children, Edith, Jay and Aileen, returned to West Virginia. Mrs. Hurley is reported to have told friends she didn't like to live in Marion.

The three other children, James, Hannah and Allen, remained here with their father. He began work as a track laborer for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. here on Aug. 28.

Arrested Here April 12

He was arrested by city police here on the night of April 12 after they received a telephone call from the son, James, that he had been beaten by his father. The father claimed the youth had stolen $60 from him which he sent to his mother, juvenile court authorities said. Hurley pleaded guilty to charges of beating his son in a hearing before Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast and was given a six-months suspended sentence in the workhouse on the condition that he take his children back to his wife in West Virginia.

Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. officials said Hurley had not reported to work since April 12, the date of his arrest. Pending his trial in juvenile court he was committed to the Marion county jail and the children were taken to the detention home.

Railroad officials said Hurley always had been a good worker, although they knew nothing of his home life. He picked up his last pay check at the railroad freight office April 30. Neighbors said the Hurley children were well behaved and they knew of no trouble in the home.

Helpful Stranger Gives Costly Aid

Mrs. J. E. Crawmer of 216 Kensington place will probably be a bit wary the next time she accepts the aid of a stranger. Sunday night at about 10 o'clock her car became stuck on the lawn of the Hi-Speed filling station at the corner of High and Church streets and an unidentified man helped shove the car onto hard pavement.

Then he grabbed her purse, which had been lying on the front seat of the car and contained about $11 in cash, and ran north through the alley by the Nic Nac restaurant.

Mrs. Crawmer, who was taken completely by surprise by the sudden development, told Nic Nac manager Bob Burton of the incident and he promptly notified city police.

She described the thief as being about 25 years old, slender, and wearing grey trousers with a two tone sport jacket.

MAY MOVE TO CALL MARSHALL BLOCKED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 5—Justice Henry A. Schweinhaut today blocked at least temporarily a defense move to summon Secretary of State Marshall as a witness in the Garsson-May war fraud trial.

The justice called attorneys in the case to a bench conference to relate that Marshall had protested by telephone against a subpoena requiring his presence as a witness.

Schweinhaut said that it was obvious that Marshall could not be heard as a defense witness today since the government has possibly several more weeks of testimony before the defense begins presenting its case.

The justice told the attorneys that high government officials could be called in the case if they are needed but he said he would not permit top officials to be called far in advance of actual testimony and hence be required to wait around and lose time from official duties.

Warren McGee, counsel for Andrew J. May, wartime house military committee chairman, requested the subpoena for Marshall.

On trial with the 72-year-old May, former Democratic house member from Kentucky, are Henry and Murry Garsson, brothers who were key officials in a $78,000,000 wartime munitions combine, and Joseph P. Freeman, who was their Washington agent.

Two Deny Charges Of Drunken Driving

Arthur H. Harbolt, 46, of 622 Lee street pleaded not guilty in municipal court this morning of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and the case was reset for May 20. He was arrested on Kenton avenue at 2:46 a. m. Sunday.

Paul C. McClung, 26, of 993 North State street, was arrested and charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated on Silver street at 3:04 a. m. Sunday. He pleaded not guilty to charges and the case has been continued to May 9.

Calvin Bowden, 52, of 815 East Center street was arrested on North Main street and charged with speeding at 12:53 p. m. Saturday. He pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning and was fined $15 and costs.

CITY EMPLOYE HURT

Nick Sansotta of 662 Davids street suffered head injury when he fell from a city pickup truck near the Isaly Dairy Co. plant on North Prospect street about 1:25 p. m. today. He was taken in the M. H. Gunder and Sons ambulance to City hospital where he is under care of a physician. His injury included head lacerations and X-ray was to be taken. It is believed he slipped and fell from the truck which he drives for the city service department.

CIVIC CHORUS HEARD BY AUDIENCE OF 500

Music Week Program Ethusiastically Received.

An audience of approximately 500 heard the Marion Civic chorus and guest soloist, John Bennett Ham, baritone of Springfield, in a concert Sunday night in Epworth Methodist church. The event was presented as a contribution to observance of National Music week.

Mr. Ham, head of the voice department of Wittenberg college at Springfield, sang two groups of numbers which were enthusiastically received, and the work of the chorus of about 60 voices also won the approval of the audience. Outstanding was presentation of an arrangement of "Battle Hymn of the Republic" by the chorus, with Mr. Ham as soloist, with two-piano accompaniment by Miss Rosaline Manzo and Mrs. Gerald Jennings. Also outstanding was singing of "Hail Ohio," composition of Mrs. H. K. Mouser, presented for the first time in Marion by a chorus group. The chorus was directed in its eight numbers by Mrs. E. N. Hale, president of the chorus organization, and organ accompanists were Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence and Mrs. H. T. Williams. Miss Lawrence played an organ solo.

Soprano soloists with the chorus were Mrs. Eleanor Smith, Mrs. Clara Campbell, Mrs. Virginia Griffiths and Miss Ethel Faye Locker. Invocation was by Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of First Presbyterian church. Dr. V. E. Busler, host pastor, gave the offertory prayer, and Rev. R. W. Faulkner of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church gave the benediction.

GALION MAN FINED

GALION—A fine of $50 and costs was given Dionicio Gomez, 60, of Galion, when he was tried in Mayor William Amann's court Friday afternoon, at the request of the complainant, Emilio T. Kelly of the same address. Gomez was tried on a charge of assault and battery.

Church Guild Sponsors Mother-Daughter Event

Blue and gold, colors of the Women's Guild of the First Evangelical and Reformed church, decorated the tables for a mother-daughter banquet given by the guild members Wednesday night at the church. The tables, at which covers were placed for 118, was centered with mother-daughter dolls in a garden setting of pansies and lighted with yellow candles. Favors were nosegays of sweetpeas and forming a background were large bouquets of tulips, jonquils and forsythia bordering a tall white fence.

Speaker was Mrs. Clara Shuey Utz of New Washington, O., sister of the late Esther Snyder, who has been in the mission field in China. She gave a talk on "Women of the Bible." Group singing was led by Mrs. E. R. Houser and there was a brief business session in charge of the president, Miss Dora Jacobs. Carrying out the mother-daughter theme, devotions were conducted by Mrs. John Bayles and daughter, Joan, and the welcome was by Mrs. Paul Castanion and daughter, Jane. A sextet composed of Mrs. Francis Reardon, Mrs. Ellen Rorick, Misses Elizabeth Haberman, Mary Queen, Florence Hayman and Marcella Bolander sang "Mother Mine," the words of which were written by Mrs. Reardon. An original poem, "A Young Mother's Prayer," was given by Mrs. Reardon. Mrs. Fred Sinning played the accompaniment for the sextet number. Prayer by Miss Mary Kathryn Gorenflo closed the program.

SHOWERED AT NEVADA

NEVADA, May 5—The women teachers of the Nevada school honored Mrs. K. C. DeGood with a shower Tuesday. Those present were the Misses Schwabel, Aten, Dove and Mrs. Kellermeyer, Mrs. Yent and Mrs. Castanian.

MARION CUBS WHIP NEWARK BROWNS TWICE, BOW ONCE

Lose Belated Opener 7-4; Win Sunday Twin Bill 6-3 and 9-3

By DON C. BURTON

The Marion Cubs behind the inspired leadership of Manager Nelson Burbrink hustled their way to a double win over Newark yesterday 6 to 3 and 9 to 3 after dropping the home opener to the Browns in the mud Saturday night 7 to 4

John Edington, local product, rationed the visitors to six hits in the night session while our favorites gathered 10 blows off starting pitcher Al Hoffman Edington fanned seven and walked four Browns as he held them scoreless until the sixth

John Tate hurled the afternoon session for the Cubs and though allowing 11 hits he was extremely stingy in the pinches He walked only one while striking out five

The Cubs had to come from behind to win the afternoon game which was stopped by rain for 25 minutes in the fourth inning The locals grabbed a big lead in the nightcap which was featured by a home run with the bases full by Manager Nelson Burbrink in the sixth Mel Wiebel homered for the Cubs in the afternoon game which started a belated rally in the winning eighth

Yerkes Better Mudder

Southpaw Yerkes of Newark proved a better mudder than big Jim Regula in the Saturday night opener The lanky Cub righthander gave up eight hits but seven of them came in two bad innings, the third and sixth The slippery field caused several easy outs to go for hits when fielders fell while trying to field slow rollers

Hill Beavens got on the batting track in the Saturday night contest with four hits in five attempts Three of these were rousing doubles

Newark grabbed four runs in the fourth off Regula on four hits and an error The Brownies added three more in the sixth on three hits a walk and a sacrifice helped along by an untimely misplay by Bobzean

The Cubs never quit although they were seven runs behind as they started the eighth inning In this session Beavens led off with his third double of the game and with one out scored on a single by Bobzean Scavo topped one in front of the plate and beat it out Burbrink filled the bases when he was safe on an error Lanky Jim Forbes then sent two in with a double Manager Burbrink tallied on a long fly by Gray

Manager Ed Danculak threw another southpaw Bill Woolard at the Cubs in the afternoon game Sunday and Bill looked like a winner going into eighth leading 3 to 1, but the hustling Marionites tallied five runs to erase the deficit and take the lead The Browns had tallied once in the second on three hits and a walk which forced in a run They made the count 3 to 0 in the third when Hopkins hit the first home run of the young season with a mate aboard Marion scored in the seventh when with two away Burbrink walked, moved up on a Forbes single and scored on a double by Buddie Gray who was having a big day

Win Game In 8th

The game winning session came in the eighth With two gone, Mel Wiebel smashed a homer over the right field wall This seemed to be the cue for the rally Bobzean got to first on an error, Scavo walked and the bases were loaded when Burbrink got in infield hit Jim Forbes drove in all three runs with a double that Calahan lost in the sun in right field The lanky first baseman scored on another double by Gray

The Cubs got off to a better start in the final contest by scoring a run in the first stanza Wiebel walked and moved to second on an infield out and crossed the plate on a single by Scavo Another run was added to the Marion total in the third on a walk to Beavens and singles by Bobzean and Scavo The score became 4 to 0 in the Marion fourth on a walk to Meyers, a single by Edington and a triple by Mel Wiebel

The big fireworks of the weekend came in the Marion sixth when the Cubs tallied five runs With one away Edington who does not know that pitchers are not supposed to hit, tapped a single Beavens drew a pass and Wiebel flied out An error by the pitcher gave Bobzean a life and then Scavo singled for the first run With the bases full of his young Cubs Manager Burbrink then sent a long drive over the scoreboard good for four runs

Newark managed to tally a single run in the sixth on three straight hits all singles The Browns touched Edington for two runs in the eighth Palko walked as a starter and was safe at second when Gray dropped an assist from Bobzean Batt then batted both home on a long double which he tried to stretch into a triple but was out.

The Cubs go on the road for four days returning to Lincoln park Friday by playing hosts to the Springfield Giants for two days The Dayton Indians will be in for a doubleheader Sunday and a single game Monday

Mayor H L Dowler threw out the first ball in the opener Saturday and Safety-Service Director E O Uncapher was behind the plate

SCIOTO-SANDUSKY SURVEY IS URGED

Rivers and Harbors Congress Recommends Work.

The National Rivers and Harbors congress has recommended the completion of an authorized survey of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy district flood control plan as soon as possible according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington

The district includes Marion and 16 other counties in central Ohio The congress, a private organization which backs development of America's natural resources in all regions recommended on the last day of its annual meeting in Washington Saturday that district engineers expedite their report of the Scioto-Sandusky project so that Congress can take further action and appropriate funds for construction

Army engineers now are making a re-survey of the area and studying flood control feasibility To help finance the re-survey Marion county real estate and public utilities will be assessed nearly $19 000 in the next December tax collection The assessment represents a three-tenths of a mill levy ordered by the board of directors of the district on its 17 counties

During its annual meeting last week the congress also recommended 13 rivers and harbors and flood control projects for immediate construction

Allen Prettyman of Columbus, secretary and counsel for the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy district and Army engineers now are surveying flood control possibilities of the proposed Big Walnut reservoir He was named by Gov Thomas Herbert to represent Ohio at the annual meeting of the congress

SPECIAL TO POULTRY RAISERS
Feed prices are definitely on the downward trend. Egg prices are bound to skyrocket.
It is raise economy to think feed is too high to produce a flock of HYBRED PULLETS for layers, the kind which are extremely healthy and disease resistant. They mature from four to five months of age and are sensationally heavy producers of extra large chalk white eggs.
The MINORCA LEGHORN HYBRED is the answer to those outstanding characteristics. This HYBRED COCKEREL is also outstanding as a broiler chicken. Try them and be convinced.
Chicks available on Mondays through May and June. Prices at hatchery—Straights 13c—Pullets 26c—Cockerels 3c. Add ½c per chick if you want them shipped.
A post card or telephone call will book your order.

WELL, MR. CANYON, HOW WAS YOUR BIG BUSINESS CONFERENCE WITH MISS DELTA?
THE PROSPECT SHE SENT ME TO TURNED OUT TO BE RED HOT! HERE'S THE CONTRACT! — WILL YOU LOOK INTO THE FIRMS CREDIT RATING?
THIS CONTRACT IS ALL SIGNED! HORIZONS UNLIMITED HAULS OIL WELL MACHINERY FOR THESE PEOPLE — EVEN IF THEY PAY OFF IN OLD GAS RATION STAMPS!
OH-HERE'S THEIR BINDER CHECK!
YOU DON'T SEEM TOO MOVED BY THE AWESOME PRESENCE OF THIS UNFAMILIAR STUFF! DID DELTA FADE OUT ON YOU?
HUH?
.. I THOUGHT SO! I LOOKED UP HER ADDRESS .I WOULDN'T WANT YOU TO BE BORED BETWEEN TRIPS!

WHAT DID THESE THUGS LOOK LIKE..THE ONES THAT QUIZZED YOU ABOUT FINGERS MORAY? WHERE ARE THEY STAYING?
ONE WAS FAT, WITH A BULBOUS NOSE AND A CHEEKFUL OF CHEWING TOBACCO. HE DIDN'T INTRODUCE HIMSELF, THE OTHER WAS A BLOND, STUPID EX-PUG CALLED SOCKY. THEY'RE HANGING OUT AT THE SILVER SEQUIN CLUB
THEY WERE AFTER MORAY BECAUSE HE OWES THEM MONEY...FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS!
THEN THEY'LL WANT TO PICK HIM UP BEFORE THE POLICE DO. TOO! SOMETIMES THESE UNDERWORLD LUGS KNOW THE MOST LIKELY HAUNTS OF THEIR "HOT" COLLEAGUES. MY BEST BET IS TO STALK THE STALKERS!
OH, RIP! YOU MUST GET HIM BEFORE THE POLICE DO! IF YOU FAIL, I'M RUINED!
IF YOU HAD TOLD ME ABOUT THAT FRENCH POLICE PIC... LONG AGO, I'D HAVE HAD IT BY NOW! IF MORAY IS ARRESTED WITH IT ON HIM, YOU HAVE ONLY YOURSELF TO BLAME! I'LL DO MY BEST!

MILLIONAIRE JONATHAN DEXTER HAS FALLEN IN LOVE WITH AN UNKNOWN GIRL WHOSE VOICE HE HEARD ACCIDENTALLY OVER THE TELEPHONE—
BUT EVEN IF SHE'S NOT MARRIED, THIS GIRL MAY BE— UGLY!
I CAN'T EXPLAIN, BUT HER VOICE IS ALL THAT MATTERS!
A 'PLANET' WANT AD GETS RESULTS
SHE SOUNDED SO WARM... SO CARESSING... WONDERFUL! HER LOOKS CAN'T MAKE ANY DIFFERENCE! JUST FIND HER!
THERE'S SOMETHING STRANGE ABOUT HIS FEELING THAT WAY OVER A VOICE.
I GUESS HE KNOWS HIS OWN MIND, LOIS, OR— DOES HE??

THERE'S MACK GIVIN' ORDERS AGAIN. HE THINKS IT'S HIS SHOP.
HE'S JUST MAKING SOME SUGGESTIONS, SARGE
BUT WE'VE GOT THINGS TO BE DONE HERE, BIX. WHEN WE NEED HELP HE'S OUT THERE BOSSIN'!
OH, WELL, IT WON'T BE LONG NOW!
YOU KNOW, BIX, I'M BEGINNIN' TO THINK THIS PLACE AIN'T BIG ENOUGH FOR HIM AN' ME, TOO.
IN THREE WEEKS MORE IT WILL BE TWICE AS BIG ANYWAY, I THINK YOU'RE NUTS!

DAYS RUN INTO WEEKS AND JOE HAS FOUND ANOTHER CLUE .. WHICH GIVES HIM ENTHUSIASM
SHE MUST HAVE GONE QUITE A DISTANCE IF SHE WAS ANYWHERE AROUND HERE SHE WOULD HAVE BEEN FOUND
WE BETTER HEAD NORTH FROM HERE I'LL BOOK EXABISHUN FIGHTS
WE'LL COVER A LOTTA GROUND OH YEAH—I HAD PHOTOGRAPHS OF 'ER SENT OUT TEVRY DAILY AN' SUNDY PAPER IN THE COUNTRY TODAY.
THANK YOU, KNOBBY I'LL FIND HER I KNOW SHE'S ALIVE AND I'LL NEVER REST TILL SHE'S SAFELY WITH ME.
UNFORTUNATELY THE VILLAGE WHERE ANN IS PRESENTLY STAYING HAS NO DAILY OR SUNDAY PAPER, AND NONE OF THE CITIZENS HAVE SEEN HER PICTURE

Terry and the Pirates By George Wunder

TSK TSK! POOR OLD DEAN! A DATE WITH ERMINE WILL DO THAT TO ANY SOMETIMES
YEH, WE DRAG OVER HERE TO HIS OFFICE IN THE COLD GREY DAWN JUST TO FIND OUT HOW HIS DATE WITH HER WENT LAST NIGHT AND ALL HE DOES IS STARE AT THAT OLD POETRAIT AND MUMBLE ABOUT A FAT MAN
IF YOU COMEDIANS WILL CANCEL YOUR PERFORMANCE I'LL EXPLAIN .. AT ERMINE'S APARTMENT I NOTICED A BURNING CIGARETTE WITHOUT A TRACE OF HER LIPSTICK ON IT AND FIGURED THERE WAS SOMEONE ELSE IN THE FLAT — AFTER I LEFT, I HUNG AROUND OUTSIDE UNTIL A MAN CAME OUT.
SO? THEN SHE HAS A PARTNER IN WHATEVER SHE'S UP TO THAT WASN'T SHEPPICKING BUT THIS IS — I CAUGHT A GLIMPSE OF THE GUY'S FACE AND HE'S A DEAD RINGER FOR THE CHARACTER IN THIS OLD PAINTING!

The Gumps By Gus Edson

AH-HA--IT'S GOOD TO BE HOME - WHERE A MAN CAN TAKE OFF HIS NEW SHOES AND PUT ON HIS OLD MANNERS--
YES WONDERFUL, DEAR--
THAT'S WHY I'M ANXIOUS TO HAVE ONE OF OUR OWN - AFTER ALL THIS IS ANDY'S AND MIN'S HOME - NOW PUT THOSE TIGHT SHOES RIGHT BACK ON--
WE'RE GOING HOUSE HUNTING--
HM-I NEVER REALIZED HOW COMPLICATED MARRIED LIFE COULD BE--

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"If every window in all the family apartments is barred," I went on quickly, "we may be able to convince Mary and Noel that the cause was Father's fear of an espionage plot, instead of our anxiety over Mary's mental condition."

Philip Veritzen rose abruptly, and looked at Olina

"If you are ready, my dear," he said, "we will return at once to our apartment, and I will give the necessary orders to have the workmen begin barring the windows the first thing in the morning."

"I am quite ready," she said, rising, and Philip made me a bow which was almost an obeisance

"With your usual resourcefulness," he said, "you have hit on the solution to this problem."

Will Be Credulous

"Thank you," I said "I hope Mary will be credulous Just one thing more Where will Noel spend the night?"

"In our apartment," he answered quickly "Olga arranged that as soon as she saw him. Until Mary can go to their own apartment, he will stay with us It is unthinkable for him to be alone down there."

"I am so glad," I said "Now, one last request Will you please tell Noel that Dr Twitchell is coming in the morning early, and that as soon as possible afterwards, I will telephone him, and ask him to come down to see Mary?"

"I will impress that upon him," Noel's father said "It probably will keep him from rushing down here before daylight."

"That is what I wish to avoid," I told him, smiling, and then they went away, Olina giving me a last whispered message as she went out of the door

"Don't forget," she said, "that Maman and I are on call any hour of the night or day if you need us."

Glad to Remember

"I shall be very glad to remember that, dear girl," I told her, and I am sure we shall need all the help we can get I'll tell you about it later."

She went away with her hand on her stepfather's arm, and I saw my father's eyes go to his small granddaughter, absorbed in the new game of solitaire which Jack was teaching her

I saw, and so did Dicky, that he wanted the little girl to himself, but that he would not interrupt their game I signaled Dicky with my eyebrows, and he crossed to the table against the window seat where Jack was seated opposite him Then he tapped Jack on the shoulder in an exaggerated imitation of a collegian from the "stag line" at a fraternity dance

"Let loose, Fella-" he said "I am deputized to convey this delectable armful to a handsomer and much more distinguished man."

Rises and Bows

Jack looked over at my father, and rising, bowed from the waist

"I yield to you, Chief," he said, "but if this politoon had come over here on his own, he would have felt the toe of my boot."

Dicky bowed low to Faith, loftily ignoring Jack, and offered his arm with elaborate courtesy to his small daughter, now giggling ecstatically Then he led her over to my father, and the next instant the little girl was nestled in her grandfather's lap, both of them radiating such joy and contentment that it was hard to tell which was enjoying the reunion more

"If you do not need me Father," I said, smiling at him, "I will go back to Katharine for a little while But be sure to call me before you go"

"I'll do that," he said "But I can tell you now that I shall be leaving here in a quarter of an hour"

Then you won't need to call me I shall be back in this room in ten minutes"

"Thank you," he said "I can now devote my whole time and attention to the loveliest, dearest, sweetest little girl in all the world"

"Oh-h-! You mean me, don't you Granddad?" Faith caroled, preening herself "Do you know this is the second compliment I've had today!"

"What was the other one Faith?" her virtuous grandfather asked

"Oh, the teacher said I colored the best picture of a rabbit on my side of the class"

"How wonderful!" her grandfather said "How many were there on your side of the class?"

"Two," Faith said nonchalantly "Me and another kid"
